Due to your continued interest in the PCCP, we are sending the attached notification and registration for the Habitat Conservation Planning 7th Annual Workshop that will be held in Vacaville on November 18th.

This workshop provides a forum that focuses on elements helpful to jurisdictions and partners that are currently preparing Conservation Plans, or that are interested in the preparation of these plans. It provides an opportunity for information exchange to assist local jurisdictions in avoiding certain pitfalls in the Conservation planning process, provides a forum to discuss regulatory problems that arise in the process and provides insight into the legal ramifications on developing a plan as well as other related items.

Anyone can attend this conference, including property owners, elected officials, planners from various agencies, regulatory folks and the list goes on. A registration fee of $40 is required for attendance (lunch included).

Please review the attached if you would like to attend.

Thank you,

Shirlee
